

CENTRAL BOOKINGS

Central Bookings is a renowned activity booking system for organizing a large number of activities at Eagle Hill College. Their services are used to manage and allocate schedules for large activities that may be conducted in parallel. Participants in these activities are ensured that they will get the most out of all the activities prepared by the organizers.

Organizers

Central Bookings always keep track of their activity organizers and the activities they intend to conduct. Each organizer has a dedicated contact person, with contact information, who will handle the activities the organizers have prepared.

Note

In designing this system, there must be sufficient data structures to support the generation of reports in the future. For example, Central Bookings may check which organizers hosted activities on a certain day. They may also generate a report on the list of participants for activities with different statuses (booked and attended, booked but not attended).
